The Creating Word

An international conference on the teaching and learning of English will be held here later this month.

The conference, jointly organized by the Faculties of Arts, Education, and Extension, has taken as its title "The Creating Word." According to H.A. Hargreaves, Professor of English, the impetus for the conference came not so much from the great deal of attention that has recently been given to a perceived decline in basic language skills among school graduates as from a realization that English teachers at various educational levels were going about their work in isolation, with no clear idea of what was happening at other teaching levels or of what the future might hold.

With this "fragmentation" as the basis of their concern, conference organizers have enlisted the aid of some internationally-renowned English language experts.

Jacques Barzun is hailed as one of the foremost educators of the day. An authority on the history of modern European thought and culture, he is currently Literary Advisor to Charles Scribner's Sons. A Fellow of the Council of Learned Societies and an Extra-ordinary Fellow of Churchill College, Cambridge, Dr. Barzun is the recipient of the Royal Society of Arts Silver Medal and the French Legion of Honor.

M.A. Abrams is a leading authority on the history of literature, European Romanticism, and literature criticism. The Class of 1916 Professor at Cornell University, he is the editor of the widely-used Norton Anthology of English Literature. Louise Rosenblatt, Professor Emeritus of English Education at New York University, is widely recognized for her many scholarly works including Literature as Exploration, and Reading in an Age of Mass Communication.

In addition, invited participants include John Dixon, founding member of the National Association for the Teaching of English in the United Kingdom; Peter Harcourt, Professor of Film Studies at Carleton University; Martha King, Professor of Reading and Language Arts and director of many American educational organizations; Robin Skelton, Professor of English at the University of Victoria; and Kenneth Weber, Professor of Education at the University of Toronto. Completing the list of distinguished participants are numerous University of Alberta faculty members, including Norman Page, Rowland McMaster, Susan Jackel, Rudy Wiebe, and David Jackel. President Horowitz, J. Gordin Kaplan, Vice-President (Research), and Terry White, Dean of Arts, will also take part in the conference.

"The Creating Word" begins Thursday, 27 October, with Dr. Barzun's keynote address "Rhetoric and Rightness: Some Fallacies in the Science of Language." Sessions on Friday and Saturday will concentrate on such issues as special learners; drama in the classroom; teaching poetry; language, literature, and the computer; and creative writing. John Patrick Gillese, Director of Alberta Culture's Film and Literary Arts Branch, will be guest speaker at the Friday evening banquet.

Professor Hargreaves points out that in order to accommodate local teachers who are apt to be in the classroom on Friday, the sessions have been scheduled so that the Thursday evening and Saturday activities form almost a

"conference within a conference." (Registration fees have been set accordingly.)

Sponsors of "The Creating Word" are The University of Alberta, Alberta Culture, Alberta Education, and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada. Registration is limited; those interested in attending are asked to telephone Jim Shaw, Faculty of Extension, 432-5047. □

University to Host College Liaison Conference Next Week

Admissions Requirements, Special Sessions and Transfer Students, College Transfer Issues, and Quota Admissions are among the topics to be aired at the 21 October College Liaison Conference.

The conference will take place in 120 Corbett Hall from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A central figure in the proceedings is Ernest Reinhold, Director of College Liaison. Following words of welcome by President Myer Horowitz, he will discuss University-College Relations: The College Liaison Office. Dr. Reinhold's office was established 1 July last to deal with most matters related to the University's interaction with the colleges, technical institutes, and other post-secondary institutions in the province. Dr. Reinhold, Past Chairman of the Committee on Admissions and Transfer (CAT), a standing committee of General Faculties Council, says the office reflects the University's recognition of the increased contribution of the other institutions to post-secondary education in Alberta.

The institutions represented at the conference are The Banff Centre for Continuing Education, Camrose Lutheran College, Canadian Union College, Concordia College, Fairview College, Grande Prairie Community College, Grant MacEwan Community College, Keyano College, Lakeland College, Lethbridge Community College, Medicine Hat College, Mount Royal College, NAIT, Olds College, Red Deer College, SAIT, and The King's College.

Following Dr. Reinhold's remarks, Gerald O. Kelly, President of Grant MacEwan Community College, and Joe Daniel, Associate Director of Admissions at this University, will introduce Admissions Requirements (high school matriculation averages, literacy examination, second-term admissions).

At 10 a.m., K.L. Carswell, Director of Special Sessions, will speak on Special Sessions and Transfer Students.

College Transfer Issues, both general (institutional autonomy and transfer arrangements, consistency in university approach to transfer) and course-related (uniformity in grading standards, selection of texts, library and laboratory resources; periodic review of approved courses) will then be broached by C. Lorne Dick and Elizabeth Richards. Mr. Dick is Vice-President Instruction at Medicine Hat College; Professor Richards has succeeded Dr. Reinhold as Chairman of CAT.

At 1:15 p.m., W.A. Blanchard, Registrar, will initiate a thirty-minute discussion of Quota Admissions.

F. Speckeen, President of Fairview College, and C.M. Lockwood, Dean of this University's Faculty of Extension, will introduce the subject Consortia and the University.

Instructor Qualifications will be placed on the floor at 2 p.m. by S. Keith Ward, Academic Dean and Acting President, The King's College.

D.A. Schmit, President, Keyano College, and W.D. Wilde, Associate Dean in the Faculty of Education, will introduce University-College Relations: Communication and Contact at 2:30 p.m.

Dr. Reinhold will be the chairman of an open session in which additional items can be raised and answers to questions sought. □

Students' Research Day Scheduled

The sixteenth annual Students' Research Day sponsored by the Faculty of Medicine will be held Wednesday, 19 October, at 8:30 a.m. in 2-117 Clinical Sciences Building.

The day is seen as a useful tool in disseminating information to medical students, faculty, physicians, and the public concerning medical research activities at the University and more specifically, individual research projects completed during the summer of 1983. In this way, the Faculty of Medicine can attempt to instill an awareness of and appreciation for the role that research plays in the treatment of human disease.

The students who will participate in Research Day undertook research projects during summer after which they submitted abstracts of their work. Twenty-four students were chosen to present their work verbally, and all abstracts are published and made available at Research Day.

Among the audience will be three judges known for their expertise in the field of medical research: Joseph Clarke, Professor of Biochemistry, Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto; and, from the University's Faculty of Medicine, Brian Sykes, Professor of Biochemistry, and Wanda Wenman, Associate Professor of Pediatrics. Students' Research Day is coordinated this year by Don Spady, Department of Pediatrics. □

Lubomir Doležel: Distinguished Visitor

Lubomir Doležel will be a guest of the Department of Comparative Literature under the auspices of the University's Distinguished Visitors Program. His visit will begin 13 October and extend to 1 November.

Dr. Doležel is currently Professor of Slavic and Comparative Literature, as well as the chairman of the former department, at the University of Toronto. He has held appointments and lectured at a number of European and North American universities, notably the Institute for Czech Literature of the Czechoslovak Academy of Sciences, Prague, the University of Amsterdam, the University of Michigan, and Charles University, Prague. He is also a member of a number of prestigious editorial boards, such as Poetics, PTL - A Journal for Theory of Literature and Descriptive Poetics, Poetics Today, Essays on Poetics and the Canadian Review of Comparative Literature. His various fields of research include linguistics, stylistics, structural poetics, and narrative theory. He is currently working on a large study of the history of structural poetics.

Known widely in the English-speaking world for his book, Narrative Modes in Czech Literature, he has published extensively in scholarly periodicals, his most recent papers addressing problems in literary communications and poetics.

Professor Doležel will be giving three lectures and one seminar. On 17 October, his topic will be "The Road of History and the Circles of the Good Soldier" (on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Hašek). On 20 October, he will lecture on "The Identity of the Literary Text" and on 27 October, "Our Heritage: Aristotelian Poetics and Criticism."

The seminar, to be held 1 November, is entitled "Types of Fictional Worlds."

The lectures and seminar will take place in the Senate Chamber, Old Arts Building (Arts 226), on the dates given, from 3 to 5 p.m. □

United Way Report

This report covers the canvass period up to and including 5 October. During only the first three days of the official canvass, twenty-seven academic and non-academic staff members donated a total of $7,841 to the United Way. This amount represented 4.4 percent of the campaign objective of $180,000.

The United Way canvass continues throughout October. A more detailed report will appear in the next issue of Folio. □

Board of Governors

The Board of Governors at The University of Alberta announced the appointment of three department chairmen at its regular monthly meeting Friday, 7 October.

Robert Carney assumed the chairmanship of the Department of Educational Foundations for a five-year term beginning 1 September 1983. Dr. Carney obtained his bachelor and master's degrees from the University of British Columbia and received his doctorate from this University. He came to the University in 1976.

Milburn Lerohl has been re-appointed chairman of the Department of Rural Economy. Although he has been on study leave, Dr. Lerohl's term runs from 1 July 1983 to 30 June 1987. Dr. Lerohl received his undergraduate degree from this University and attended the University of British Columbia for his master's and Michigan State University for his doctoral degrees. He first joined the University in 1974 and assumed the chairmanship of the department in 1978.

A.E. (Ted) Wall took over as chairman of the Department of Physical Education and Sport Studies in the Faculty of Physical Education and Recreation on 1 August 1983 for a five-year term. A graduate of McGill University with bachelor and master's degrees, Dr. Wall obtained his doctorate from this University and joined the faculty in 1976. □

Addendum

Folio's 29 September listing of researchers awarded grants by the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada should have included J. Warwaruk (Civil Engineering). The $130,650 grant, which comes under the category "major equipment grants," is for a data acquisition and control system for the I.F.M. Morrison Structural Engineering Laboratory.

Dr. Warwaruk's collaborators are G.L. Kulak, J. Longworth, J.G. MacGregor, D.W. Murray, A. Scanlon, S.H. Simmonds, and D.J.L. Kennedy. □

Italian Connection Continues

Two years ago, representatives from our University and the City of Edmonton journeyed to Rome to present our case for hosting Universiade '83. Italian sports and government officials are now returning the visit—to learn all they can about our internationally-recognized Research and Training Centre for the Physically Disabled, directed by R.D. Steadward, Associate Dean of Physical Education and Recreation.

Roberto Marson, President on the Italian Federation of Sports for Handicapped (FISHA), and Antonio Vernole, Secretary General of FISHA, head the list of dignitaries who will spend three days next week taking an in-depth look at the innovative and successful centre which concentrates on the fitness needs of physically disabled children, adults, and professional athletes.

According to Dr. Steadward, the Italian contingent has four main interests: the evaluation of paraplegics; the classification of disabled athletes; research into instrumentation; and, ultimately, the establishment of a similar research and training centre. To that end, Dr. Steadward has set them a busy schedule.

Extensive tours of the Centre, meetings with both its staff and participants in its many programs, discussions with faculty in Physical Education and Recreation, visits to Edmonton's Italian community, and shoptalk with members of Edmonton's active sports community will keep the eleven member group on its toes. "They want to find what it is that we're doing, and how we are doing it. The tour we've organized for them should do that," Dr. Steadward explains.

The other members of the Italian contingent are Luigi Rosati, Antonio Rodano, Gianfranco Carabelli, Silvana Scalchi, Giuseppe Tardini, Alessandra Torregiani, Massimo Colabucci, Massimo Segà, and Giuseppe Valenzi. □

Gairdner Award Winner to Visit Campus

Gerald D. Aurbach, winner of a 1983 prestigious Gairdner International Award in Medical Sciences, will visit our University on 24 October. His visit is being sponsored by the Gairdner Foundation of Toronto and he will be the guest of the Department of Biochemistry.

Dr. Aurbach is currently Chief of the Metabolic Diseases Branch of the National Institutes of Arthritis, Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases, at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Maryland. Dr. Au-rbach is being honored by the Gairdner Foundation for his outstanding basic and clinical research on the functions of parathormone, its mechanism of action and the factors that regulate its secretion. Parathormone is a peptide hormone that plays a key role in the control of calcium metabolism and bone formation.

Dr. Aurbach will present a lecture entitled "Mechanism of Action of Parathyroid Hormone-Clinical Applications" at 4 p.m. on Monday, 24 October, in 227 Medical Sciences Building. □

Campus Watch: A Security Program

In a continuing attempt to combat robbery, vandalism, and other forms of undesirable conduct, Campus Security is about to embark upon a "Campus Watch" program. This program is modelled to some degree on the "Neighborhood Watch" program that has been so effective in many Canadian cities. The Director of Campus Security, therefore, would very much appreciate the assistance of Deans, Chairmen, and Directors in identifying contact people through whom the program may be initiated.

According to W.F.G. Perry, the thrust of the program is to alert members of our community to the continued need for security awareness. Another aim of the program is to inform people of the services that Campus Security can provide for mutual benefit. □

First Recipient of Billy Mills Achievement Award Announced

A graduate student in the Faculty of Education has been named as the first recipient of the Billy Mills Achievement Award. Valerie Tootoosis, principal of Ermineskin Kindergarten at Hobbema, Alberta, was presented the award by the Office of Native Affairs at the Native Students Club's Seventh Annual Powwow, 1 October. She was selected in recognition of her master's thesis, "Oral Language and Learning of One Five-Year-Old Cree Child at Home and at School," completed in the Department of Elementary Education last spring.

Born and raised in Medicine Hat, Valerie Tootoosis now lives in Wetaskiwin and administers a kindergarten attended by more than 200 children. Also holding a bachelor's degree from our University, Tootoosis is a Treaty Indian and a member of the Poundmaker Reserve in Saskatchewan.

The award was established following the filming of "Running Brave," the story of Sioux Indian Olympic gold medalist Billy Mills. Portions of the movie were filmed on campus last year. Instead of accepting a fee for the use of campus locations, the University asked the film's backers, the Ermineskin Band, to endow the Billy Mills Achievement Award. The award will be given annually in recognition of outstanding academic achievement by a native student at the University.

(Other students were also honored during the powwow at the Sacred Heart School. Please refer to the accompanying article.)□

Native Students Honored

At the Seventh Annual Powwow of the Native Students Club, held in the Sacred Heart School on 1 October, three students were recipients of awards named for outstanding native Albertans.

The Stan Daniels Memorial Prize commemorates the late president of the Métis Association of Alberta. It is awarded to a Métis or non-status Indian student who has been active in community affairs and who demonstrates leadership. Two students, Shirley Fayant and Martha Wakefield, were honored with the prize this year.

Fayant received a BEd from this University and now teaches in Grouard, Alberta. As an artist, she has contributed to community affairs in a number of areas. Wakefield is a second-year Faculty of Arts student at this University and was chosen for her work as the administrator of several major projects during Universiade '83. The award is donated by the Crocodile Shop in Edmonton.

The Adrian Hope Award, presented annually to a student registered in Anthropology 483, Cree Language and Culture, was won by Sharla Douglas, an Ojibway Indian from Ontario. The award, named in honor of the Métis elder, poet and statesman from the Kikino Métis Settlement, is given for excellence in a written composition about Cree culture.□

Lucie Pepin to Address UAYs

Mme. Lucie Pepin, President of the National Advisory Council on the Status of Women, will be in Edmonton from 21 to 26 October to attend a conference of the Provincial Councils on the Status of Women.

Mme. Pepin has shown interest in the education and motivation of women in science and will be on campus to address the University of Alberta Women in Science and Engineering (UAYs) on Friday, 21 October, at 12:30 p.m. in CW-410 Biological Sciences. All interested people are invited to attend.□

United Church Moderator to Speak

The Rt. Rev. Clarke MacDonald, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, will speak on 19 October at noon in the SUB Meditation Room.

Rev. MacDonald, a strong supporter of disarmament, is a member of Christian Initiative for Peace, a coalition of Roman Catholic, United and Mennonite clergy and lay people recently returned from a peace-making trip to Moscow. His lecture, sponsored by the University Chaplains' Association, will focus on the outcome of the CIP protest of Canadian involvement in the nuclear arms race, with emphasis on its recent visit to Moscow.

During his stay in Edmonton, Rev. MacDonald will also participate in a lecture series jointly sponsored by the Chaplaincy and Garneau United Church entitled "Theology and Religion in the Alberta Context." On 18 October at 7:30 p.m. in Garneau United Church, he will speak on "Christian Social Action in the Canadian Context." Others taking part in the five-part lecture series are Harold Coward, Department of Religious Studies, University of Calgary; Ben Smillie, St. Andrew's College, Saskatoon; David Goa, Curator of Folk Life, Provincial Museum; Sr. Donna Geernaert, St. Joseph's College; and Bruce Miller, United Church Chaplain.□

Playwriting Centre Awards Announced

The Canadian Playwrighting Centre, housed within the Department of Drama, recently announced the recipients of awards for new play projects. This year awards were presented to Theatre Calgary, Lunchbox Theatre of Calgary, and A Fringe Theatre Event, sponsored by Chinook Theatre of Edmonton.

The money granted to these three professional companies will go directly to the playwright or playwrights currently working in approved new play projects.

This is the first year the Centre has operated this particular program. In the past, it has focussed its efforts on the annual Clifford E. Lee Award, a nationwide program. Now, however, the Centre will limit its operations to those new play programs conducted by professional theatres within Alberta. All Canadian playwrights are eligible to apply for an award providing their plays are staged by or are the focus of a workshop for an Albertan professional theatre company.

The judges for this year's awards were Keith Turnbull, a drama professor at the University of Calgary; Gordon Peacock, a professor in this University's drama department; and Scott Swan, former director of Edmonton's Northern Light Theatre. Funding was received from Alberta Culture, the Canada Council and the Clifford E. Lee Foundation.□

International Students' Organization Seeks Host Families

The International Students' Organization (ISO) represents the international and internationally-minded students on campus. It brings together people from more than forty countries from all continents, with many Canadians as active members. Since its foundation about ten years ago, the organization has been through times of higher and lower activity. Currently, ISO is involved in students' orientation week; it is a source of information for students; it has a strong social function in organizing get-togethers on campus as well as trips and picnics outside the city; it also provides possibilities for students to display aspects of their cultures.

One of the activities ISO coordinates is the seeking out of "host families" that give international students a chance to get to know Canadian families. Various communities in the Edmonton area have been contacted in order to find the families interested in this kind of activity. Also, University staff have expressed willingness to participate in this kind of informal "cultural exchange" with international students. ISO welcomes this interest and is ready to assume a coordinating role. It views the large University community as the natural place for this kind of action. Two individuals can be contacted in this matter: M. Sadiq Nargal, 432-4590, and Natalie Robert-Peillard, 433-3270.

Future ISO activities include a United Nations Evening and a Halloween party. □

Sabine Sintenis is congratulated by Sandra Garvie's mother, Mrs. Laura Garvie.

Sandra Garvie Award Winner Announced

The Sandra Garvie Memorial Fund is pleased to announce that Sabine Sintenis has been selected as the first recipient of the Sandra Garvie Memorial Award. Sintenis, a second-year student in the Faculty of Library Science, won the award as a result of her interest in public legal education.

The Sandra Garvie Memorial Award was created in 1979 in honor of the late Librarian for the Legal Resource Centre, Faculty of Extension. The award is intended to help people pursue a course of study or undertake research into the library or informational aspects of public legal education. The value of the award this year is $800. The deadline for application for next year is 30 June 1984.

For more information, please write to Lois Gander, Director, Legal Resource Centre, 10049 81 Avenue, Edmonton T6E 1W7. □

Visiting Fellowships

in Biotechnology in Laboratories of Agriculture Canada

and Environment Canada

Agriculture Canada and Environment Canada, in response to the national strategy in biotechnology, will be offering twenty fellowships in specialized areas of biotechnological research. Challenging opportunities exist in recombinant DNA technology, cell and tissue culture, production of monoclonal antibodies, and plant, animal and microbial physiology and genetics relevant to nitrogen fixation, plant strain improvement, waste bioconversions and plant and animal diseases.

Fellowships have an annual value of $25,488 and are awarded for one year with the possibility of renewal for a second year.

Candidates should hold a recent doctorate or expect to receive one before January 1984 from a recognized university. Candidates with a master's degree plus two years of related experience will also be considered. These qualifications must be met before commencing tenure of the fellowship.

Deadline dates: Immediately for awards beginning prior to 1 January 1984; 1 January 1984 for awards beginning before 15 March 1984. For awards beginning between 1 April 1984 and 31 December 1984, applications must be submitted six weeks prior to the expected beginning date of the award.

Standard NSERC application forms for visiting fellowships are available from the Student Awards Office. The application form and required supporting documents should be addressed to the following people who will also provide further information on these biotechnology fellowships: Ian de la Roche, Director, Chemistry and Biology Research Institute, Research Branch, Agriculture Canada, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0C6 or Alain Albagli, Chief, Laboratory Services, Technical Services Branch, Environmental Protection Service, Environment Canada, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 1C8.

Campus Reviews

As part of the process of carrying out systematic reviews under the guidance of the President's Advisory Committee on Campus Reviews (PACCR), the Department of Music and Animal Services are completing the self-study phase of the review process. The other major phase of the process is the site visit and assessment by the Unit Review Committee. In preparation for this second phase, PACCR invites written comment prior to 15 November 1983. Submissions are for the use of the Unit Review Committee and will be held in confidence by the members of that committee.

Submissions should be sent to: Mrs. L. Pearson, PACCR Office, W4-13 Chemistry Building, Attn: The Music Unit Review Committee or Animal Services Unit Review Committee.

Review Committee, Chairman, Department of Recreation and Leisure Studies

The GFC Nominating Committee is seeking nominations for one faculty member, not a member of the department concerned, to serve on the above Review Committee. Would those who have suggestions for nominations or who are interested in serving on the committee please contact Mrs. Pamela Plaskitt, Secretary, GFC Nominating Committee, 2-5 University Hall. Telephone 432-4715.

Les Amies Dance Club

Les Amies Dance Club, whose membership includes numerous staff of this University, is entering its sixty-second year of ballroom dancing. With the extended closure of the MacDonald Hotel the club has moved to the Polish Hall. The traditions, including formal dress for the dances and a ban on alcoholic beverages, remain the same. There are five dances with the first and last being dinner dances.

Les Amies Dance Club is accepting applications for membership for the 1983-84 season. The fee is $140 per couple. For further information, call Gordon Webster, 432-3417.

Positions Vacant

The University of Alberta is an equal opportunity employer but, in accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, these advertisements are directed to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Sessional Librarians

The University of Alberta Library invites applications for two sessional librarians within Cataloguing, one in Science and the other in Education. The successful candidates will have a degree in Library Science in addition to a science or education background. Previous cataloguing experience and a working knowledge of a second language would be an asset.

Reporting to the Cataloguing Unit Head, each incumbent will be responsible for original cataloguing of science materials.

The position is classified at the Librarian I level, with a salary range of $24,166 to $29,719. The appointment will be a term position of up to ten months. Applicants should send curriculum vitae and the names of three references to: Mr. Peter Freeman, Chief Librarian and Director of Libraries, The University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta T6G 2J8.

The closing date for applications is 15 October 1983.
